Teacher Believed To Be Smallpox Case

An Oak Bay High School teacher is the suspected victim of smallpox reported in Saanich Thursday, it was learned today.

Awaiting word from Vancouver on tests being made of the case, Dr. J. L. Gayton, Saanich municipal health officer, said at 12:30 today that an expert diagnostician had been consulted.

"As a result," he said, "I am more satisfied today that it is smallpox."

J. W. Dempsey, secretary of the Oak Bay School Board, said he had not received any instructions on the closing of the school where the suspected victim taught.

"If she is suffering from smallpox I am quite sure the school will be closed," he said.

The teacher in question is a resident of Old West Saanich Road. She visited Seattle three weeks ago.

Typhus Hits Tokyo; Cases Total 3,268

TOKYO (AP)—There are 3,268 typhus cases in Tokyo, the Kyodo news agency reported today. The Metropolitan Police reported 736 new cases Friday and said recent warm weather was a contributing factor.

Prairie Health Plan

SWIFT CURRENT, Sask. (CP)—Doctors of Saskatchewan Health Region No. 1 are considering a plan to provide health services on a "fee for service" basis for the region's residents who would finance the scheme by contributing an annual flat rate. This is the first health region set up under provincial C.C.F. government legislation.

8 Holidays Restored For Canadians

OTTAWA (CP)—State Secretary Martin this afternoon announced repeal of the order-in-council of June 7, 1943, which limited the number of statutory holidays to be celebrated during the year. The statutory holidays again will be New Year's Day, Good Friday, Easter Monday, Victoria Day, Dominion Day, Labor Day, Thanksgiving Day and Christmas Day.

He said steps were being taken to fix an appropriate Day of Remembrance. The Veterans' Minister was sounding out veterans' organizations.

Job Insurance Claims Decrease

VANCOUVER (CP)—Number of unemployment insurance claims filed for this region has shown a consistent decline during the last three months.

Insurance office of National Employment Service reported today that in March claims filed totaled 5,331. There were 7,116 in February and 8,265 in January.

'Lovely Sweater' Says Truman of Indian Gift

By HARRY P. HODGES
Editor of the Times

WASHINGTON—It's certainly a lovely sweater and I shall look forward to wearing it with pride on my Alaska trip." The speaker was Harry S. Truman, president of the United States, to whom I was presented yesterday afternoon—after the press conference which coincided with the end of his first year in the toughest job in the world. He likes Vancouver Island's gift.

The Chief Executive's principal press secretary introduced me. He had taken me in hand from Clyde Blackburn, the able Canadian Press staff correspondent in his capital. At the first mention of Victoria and the paper I represented, Mr. Truman turned on his broad and fascinating smile. It became still more expansive when I referred to the famous Cowichan garment, but I reminded him, too, that Victoria and vicinity could offer him some of the finest fishing in the world—hoping he would flash the product of the Island community if British Columbia waters.

I congratulated the President on his first year of office, and

Eyres, MacDonald Assume 4 Posts In B.C. Cabinet

R. C. MacDonald and Leslie Eyres, Progressive Conservatives, were added to the British Columbia cabinet and two Progressive Conservative cabinet ministers were elevated to higher posts at a swearing-in ceremony at Government House today at 10 before Lieutenant-Governor W. C. Woodward.

The cabinet shuffle is as follows:

Hon. Herbert Anscomb, minister of public works, municipal affairs and railways, relinquished these portfolios and was sworn in as minister of finance.

Hon. E. C. Carson, minister of mines and trade and industry, is the new minister of public works.

Mr. MacDonald, member of the Legislature for Dewdney, is the new minister of mines and municipal affairs.

Mr. Eyres, member for Chilliwack, was sworn in as minister of trade and industry and minister of railways.

The swearing-in ceremony was returned in the last Oct. 25 provincial general election.

Mr. Eyres, 55, is also a veteran of municipal service, having been alderman of Chilliwack for 13 years.

First elected to the B.C. Legislature by the Chilliwack constituency in 1937, he has won all subsequent general elections.

During the First World War, Mr. Eyres served with the Strathcona Horse and, as a lieutenant with the Royal Air Force, was shot down and taken prisoner 13 days before armistice. During World War II, Mr. Eyres served more than three years as recruiting officer with the R.C.A.F.

Akinsman, he is also a member of the Canadian Legion, Board of Trade, Excelsior Lodge No. 7, I.O.O.F., and the Air Force Association.

FORMER MAYOR AND REEVE

Mr. Anscomb takes over the finance portfolio with a long background in business as a chartered accountant and managing director of the Growers Wine Co. Ltd. A former reeve of Oak Bay and mayor of Victoria, he has been a member of the B.C. Legislature since 1933.

Youngest member of the provincial executive council, Mr. Carson is now serving his fourth four-year term in the B.C. Legislature, having been first elected in 1928.

He was appointed minister of mines and trade and industry in 1942.

Mr. MacDonald enters the cabinet with a background of 20 years in municipal politics.

Born in North Wist, Invernesshire, Scotland, in 1885, he has served two years as councillor and 18 years as reeve of Coquitlam. He is president of the Fraser Valley Reeves' Association.

From 1910 to 1931 he held the B.C. heavyweight wrestling title. A member of the New Westminster Club, Burquitlam Golf Club, Y.M.C.A., and the Amateur Union, he was first elected to the B.C. Legislature in 1941 and "If the price was right we would sell," Mr. Cameron added, "but we have not had a meeting of the company and there is no proposition before us now."

Mr. Cameron admitted the company had many offers in the past to sell.

Following the swearing in the Governor-General signed the proclamation in his heat, small signature.

It also was the same signature which he had affixed to grimy train orders when he signed his locomotive in at Rimouski, Que., Thursday afternoon.

In his brief reply to Mr. King's address of welcome, the handsome Governor-General, in morning coat, and speaking in a quiet voice, described his admiration for the Canadian forces who had spearheaded the attack which led to the taking of Rome.

He added, "Can you doubt then that I and my wife are proud and happy to come here with our children, to make our home and to live amongst you?"

President Truman Dedicates Roosevelt Estate As U.S. Shrine

HYDE PARK, N.Y. (AP)—President Truman vowed today to carry on Franklin D. Roosevelt's fight against "tyranny" abroad and for the "progressive and humane principles of the New Deal."

Standing "in reverence" at ceremonies dedicating "his hallowed spot"—the Roosevelt estate—as a national shrine on the first anniversary of Mr. Roosevelt's death, President Truman said:

"May Almighty God, who has watched over this republic as it grew from weakness to strength, give us the wisdom to carry on in the way of Franklin D. Roosevelt."

It was Mr. Truman's first trip to Hyde Park since he journeyed here a year ago for the burial of his predecessor.

"The loss which America suffered through the death of Franklin D. Roosevelt cannot be softened by the spoken word," the President said. "Tributes can only emphasize our loss. But those of us who have survived in the seat of government can pay homage to his memory by our deeds."

DUTY TO OTHERS

Mr. Roosevelt's foreign policy, he said, "recognized the solemn duty of this country toward nations which have been weakened in the death struggle against tyranny."

For these principles of international co-operation, Mr. Truman declared, "we are determined to fight with all our strength."

Mr. Truman's domestic policy, he continued, was "a recognition of the basic truth that this government exists not for participate."

In the event of a U.S. warship coming here, the U.S. sailors will hold the May 24 day parade.

R. D. McLachlan, Native Sons of Canada, advised the committee the gangway under the Gorge bridge was in poor condition and, as it was felt large crowds would be attending the Gorge regatta, it was decided to ask the city council to repair the gangway.

R.C.N. representatives said the navy could enter eight whalers, four cutters and other vessels in the regatta. The navy has also offered to place a 30-piece band and field guns with crews at the disposal of the committee. A physical training display of up to 300 seamen may be used in the celebration if the committee wishes. The navy has also offered to provide a drill team of 35 men for the parade or any special event.

Frank Hunter, committee chairman, reported the following municipalities had made donations for the celebrations: Oak Bay $480, Saanich $250, and Esquimalt $200.

Victoria's Chinese will stage a special function in Chinatown May 24, take part in the day parade and provide Chinese girls with lanterns for the torchlight parade.

U.S. Planes, Ship May Take Part In May 24 Celebration

May 24 celebration committee will invite the U.S. Navy to send a ship and the U.S.A.A.F. to send planes here for an air display during the three-day May 24 celebrations here.

The committee, meeting Thursday evening, noted the R.C.A.F. would be unable to stage an air show over the city, so it was decided to ask U.S. planes to participate.

Truman Concludes Year As President

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman will step tonight from 12 months crammed with mammoth events into the uncertain future of a second year in the White House.

Outstanding events in his first presidential year were his first change in the Roosevelt cabinet, May 2 when he named Democratic Chairman Robert E. Hannegan to succeed Postmaster-General Frank Walker, and his closing of the San Francisco Conference which drafted the United Nations' Charter.

The parks committee had decided to place the equipment in the new park area on Craigflower Road leading down to Gorge water rather than the two smaller play lots in the area set aside last year, Ald. McTavish said, but the P.T.A. is opposed to this on the grounds that children may be drowned in the Gorge and also it is dangerous for them to have to cross Craigflower Road. The equipment is on hand and ready to be installed once the location is decided.

Complaints about the lack of supervision at Porter Park from residents of that area will be turned over to the police department with a further request that an officer be assigned the job of patrolling city park.

The contribution of $622 towards the construction of two concessions in Royal Athletic Park will be recommended to Monday's city council meeting at the request of the Victoria Baseball and Athletic Co. Ltd. Total cost will be $1,244, Ald. McTavish said.

The special roads appropriation will work out at $339,000. The remaining half mill or $113,000 was allocated to general supplementary estimates.

The council's action in boosting the rate was made possible by special permission granted by the B.C. Legislature this week.

The budget will mean slashing of the police commission's plans for a bigger force. The board had asked for 166 additional men, with the cost—including uniforms, set at $269,370,

Point Scores to Go
In Army Discharges

OTTAWA (CP)—Defence headquarters announced today that point scores as an index of priority for discharge from the Canadian army in Canada would be eliminated April 15.

Coincident with the indication that the United States and Britain will support a full hearing before the U.S. Security Council of Poland's charges against the Franco regime, there has been a remarkable development in Spain—two of Madrid's three morning newspapers yesterday published a belated announcement that Britain, the United States and France advised Spaniards to oust the generalissimo.

To get the full force of such publication, one must know that the Spanish press is absolutely under the thumb of the Franco dictatorship. It's my guess that this is the first time any Spanish newspaper has been permitted to publish anything even approaching such a damning statement regarding the chief of state.

And what is the meaning of this strange lifting of the censorship for a brief moment? The broad significance would seem to be clear: the generalissimo is getting set to meet the assault. Specifically, however, there is nothing to guide us as to whether the move means he is taking the offensive or whether it is a purely defensive—possibly conciliatory—action.

Highly interesting, though far less startling, is the fact that the Spanish press yesterday printed the text of Poland's charge before the Security Council, to the effect that Spain is harboring German scientists who are working on destructive instruments of war.

This accusation is calculated to bear out the claim that the Franco regime is a threat to international peace. Russia and France are expected to support Poland in this thesis.

Thus far the United States and Britain, while taking the strong measure of advising the Spanish people to throw out the Franco government, have maintained the position that the generalissimo was a domestic problem. The corollary to this would seem to be that although they would be delighted to see Franco dispossessed, Britain and the United States have no disposition to try to force Spain to accept another government selected by foreign nations, but on the contrary hope to see the change effected by a full expression of public opinion at the polls.

Links With Canada's Army Strengthen Welcome to Alexander, Says Premier

OTTAWA (CP) — Following is the text of the formal address of welcome to Canada read by Viscount Alexander, new Governor-General, today by Prime Minister King:

It was with great pleasure, and no small measure of pride, that the people of Canada learned some months ago, that the King had appointed Your Excellency to succeed the Earl of Athlone as His Majesty's representative in Canada.

We were all delighted at the word of your safe arrival at Halifax. We rejoice at your presence today, in Canada's capital.

On behalf of the government and the people of Canada I have the honor to extend to you and Lady Alexander the warmest of welcomes to our country. We, in Canada, have sought to make the family and the home the foundation of our national life. In Your Excellencies and your children, we recognize and welcome a happy family.

As Prime Minister, it is my privilege to express to Your Excellency the satisfaction felt by members of the government, and by all Canadians, that you have now entered upon the duties of your high office.

RECALLS ROYAL VISIT

In welcoming Your Excellencies to Canada, we are reminded of the visit, some years ago, of the King and Queen. The fortitude and steadfastness displayed by Their Majesties throughout the long and cruel years of war are also much in our thoughts at this time. We should like our first word to Your Excellency to be one of assurance of Canada's fidelity to the crown, and of the devotion and affection of the Canadian people for Their Majesties.

We welcome you to Canada with especial warmth because of your close association with Canada's armed forces, as commander-in-chief of the Allied armies in Italy, and, later, as Supreme Allied Commander in the Mediterranean. The Canadian veterans who served in the Mediterranean theatre, on land, at sea or in the air, are eagerly awaiting the opportunity to express anew the respect and affection your inspired in them.

It is our hope that, during your sojourn in Canada, Your Excellencies may have many opportunities to visit all parts of our country. You will find, wherever you go, a welcome in the homes, and a place in the hearts, of the Canadian people.

MILITARY CAREER

We are all proud to recognize in Your Excellency one of the great military leaders in world history.

It is of interest to recall today that in the war of 1914-18, you gave early signs of the military genius and leadership which, in the recent World War, you displayed in such exceptional measure. The power to anticipate developments, and the capacity to inspire confidence, have been outstanding characteristics of your career.

The free nations have reason to be grateful for the manner in which, in the years between the wars, you devoted yourself to preparation and training for high responsibilities. In those years you acquired a wide command of languages and extensive first-hand knowledge of geography. Your varied experiences contributed to that general understanding of men which enabled you to lead, in the greatest harmony, the forces of many nations. This achievement in itself inspired new hope in the hearts of men and women of many lands.

DEPTHES AND HEIGHTS

It has been well said that your career touched both the depths and the peaks of the war. In the chances and changes of war, you have been neither daunted by defeat, nor unduly elated by victory. We recall your resourcefulness and gallantry on the beaches of Dunkerque, your part in rebuilding the British army in the dark days of 1940; the stubborn rearguard action you fought in the jungles of Burma; the calm courage with which, at a moment when Egypt seemed all but lost, you assumed command in the Middle East. From that moment, from El Alamein to Tunis, from Sicily to the Alps, the forces you organized and directed moved forward, steadily and relentlessly, to final victory. Your success in welding together the fighting forces of many nations is evidence of the highest qualities of statesmanship.

During the years of war, Your Excellency commanded the confidence of armies of many nations. As a trusted servant of the Crown, you also enjoyed, in full measure, the confidence of their parliaments. That confidence was shared by none more than by the Parliament and people of Canada. It is with equal confidence that, today, members of both Houses of Parliament welcome Your Excellency in its new capacity as the representative, in Canada, of His Majesty the King.

This, I think, is inevitable when we consider the magnitude of the struggle we have all been through, so we must not be unduly discouraged.

I am convinced that we can surmount all our difficulties as successfully as we did in the fighting days, provided we stand firm in upholding those principles we have fought for and tackle the future with sober optimism and energy.

Although I have now said "farewell to arms," this does not mean rest and relaxation. On the contrary, there is lots of splendid constructive work to be done, and it will be my aim and privilege to devote myself wholeheartedly to the duties of my office, which will allow me to watch with sympathy and interest the progress, happiness and growing prosperity of the Canadian people, who have earned for themselves, by their own endeavors, the great position they hold in the world today.

Proud, Happy to Make Home In Canada, Says Alexander

OTTAWA (CP) — Following is the text of the address made by Field Marshal Viscount Alexander here today in reply to the address of welcome read by Prime Minister King:

I am deeply touched by the warm welcome which you have extended to me and my wife on our arrival in Canada and I thank you also for the generous tribute which you have paid to me personally.

OUTSTANDING EFFORTS

Your contribution to the common effort has been both remarkable and outstanding—worthy of your great position in the world and typical of the great heart of your people. You have sent the riches of Canada in the form of vast quantities of food and material of all sorts and huge sums of money, and above all you have sent in no small measure your richest asset—your men and women.

In honoring me by this splendid welcome, Canada, upholding the traditions of two great races, has shown her feelings of loyalty and devotion to our King, whose personal representative I have the honor to be, and it will be my duty and pleasure to convey to His Majesty your sentiments of attachment to him and his throne. It is very moving and inspiring

A RECORD OF ACCOMPLISHMENT
IN THE EXCITEMENT AND TENSION
of debate, in the play of personalities which invariably accompanies the passage of legislation, the importance of measures carried during any provincial parliamentary session frequently escapes the attention of the public for whom they are enacted.
Following prorogation, however, the nature of the business which has been transacted may be seen in a clearer light, freed to a degree from the confusing mists of criticism and unobscured by detailed argument.

Now, at the close of the first postwar session of British Columbia's 21st Parliament, the citizens will have an opportunity to analyse calmly the accomplishments that have been made.

Prior to the meeting of the assembly,
the government had pledged the people amendment of the school act to implement terms of the Cameron Report. That pledge has been redeemed, and, upon proclamation, the new regulations aimed at providing a more efficient educational system, based on a more equitable method of taxation and broadened to afford greater opportunities to the province's young people, will come into effect. Its operation cannot be expected to reach perfection immediately.
Amendments will be required. But a forward step has been taken in this most vital concern of any country's most precious asset, its children. Of an allied nature, too, are the expanded provisions made at the University of British Columbia to facilitate the study of law and medicine, an addition to the curriculum which will give further stature to an institution which already enjoys recognition for high academic standards.

In the material field, citizens will watch
the unfolding of a record public works program which bespeaks those essential developments required for the proper exploitation of natural resources so bountifully distributed throughout British Columbia. Not the least important, in realms associated with these undertakings, is the survey approved for the territory served by the P.G.E. Railway, an asset which is rapidly assuming its correct importance after an unhappy history.

For those labor forces on which the growth of the province depends to an essential degree, special legislation has been passed, raising standards beyond the previously high level that had placed British Columbia in the forefront of Canada in this respect.

From the appointment of the Royal Commission to inquire into provincial-municipal spheres of responsibility, much valuable information is assured. On the basis of resultant findings, much that is constructive may be planned.

It had not been expected that the Sloan report on forestry would be the subject of substantial legislation at the session just concluded. The volume of material was such that adequate study could not be given many questions arising from it. Nevertheless, there has been some action taken to protect this primary industry and more is in prospect when the House reconvenes.

The public has duly noted arrangements made to finance further power development in line with the over-all program mapped in that field.

These are some of the achievements of a session in which governmental promise has been widely implemented. It is particularly important that such progress should have been made at a time when the world is turning to peace and the destinies of British Columbia, in a future which can hold the promise of prosperity and security, are becoming more clearly defined.

PERON AND PACTS

WHETHER COL. PERON, WHO MUST now be recognized as President of the Argentine, will regard President Truman's policy "of joining with the other sovereign republics of America in a regional pact to provide a common defence against attack," as a promise or a threat, depends entirely on what policy he intends to pursue now that he has been so overwhelmingly endorsed by the people of the Argentine. As a promise to protect Argentina from European aggression the Colonel may regard the President's statement as superfluous. As a threat to prevent him carrying out the nefarious designs he has cherished against his neighbors, he may be prepared to institute a series of "incidents" to test how far the United States is really prepared to go.

It has to be remembered that the Colonel obtained the support of the labor unions throughout the Argentine and these are said to have given him his majority not only in the House of Representatives but in electing the governor of every state but one. With such support, so openly given, it is easy to change the brand of the Colonel's policy from Fascism to "Democracy." As the United States has opposed the Colonel and regarded him as a threat to "security" physical plane.

in the Western Hemisphere, a regional pact against the Argentine could be regarded as an attempt to establish "regional security" unilaterally outside the United Nations.

That is the point the Colonel is likely to seize on. What happens if he appeals to the United Nations to prevent aggression by the United States should she wish to intervene between him and some choice victim such as Uruguay? Even before he has come to office the Argentine government has expropriated the entire holdings of the National Bank of Argentina, in which the United States has some stock. Argentine finances have been squandered on the army and it may now be necessary to squeeze "concessions"
from some of Argentina's weaker neighbors and fellow "dictators." Regional security is easily violated under the circumstances.

INTEGRATED PLANNING

HOW LONG IT WILL TAKE TO EFFECT
a amalgamation of the districts of Greater Victoria, once the different municipalities have expressed formal readiness for unification, is a matter of conjecture. The task cannot be accomplished overnight. With opinion flowing in a swelling tide in support of the move, it is natural that elected municipal officials must be influenced by it in making their plans for the future. Saanich, for instance, feels its hands are tied by inability to determine what should be done under the jurisdiction of the existing council and what should be contemplated to meet the future needs of a Greater Victoria area.

The municipality's position is understandable. Nor, in all probability, is it restricted only to Saanich. However, school changes in the immediate offing will not only remove some of the trouble but lay the foundation for co-ordination in other directions.

There is, we submit, one clear way to overcome hurdles now in existence. Municipal authorities have a reasonable idea of the work which must be done to relieve undesirable existing conditions. If they approach such projects with a view to their integration in a Greater Victoria scheme, they cannot go far wrong. All problems, of course, will not lend themselves to that course. But, we submit, if they tackle those which do, they will have ample work on their hands to occupy available equipment and manpower for some time to come.

TIME FOR AN EXAMPLE

THE WHOLESOME DISGUST WITH which decent citizens have received reports on vandalism in city playgrounds is apparently not enough to prevent the sub-normals who are destroying play equipment from continuing their activities. Stern measures are required. It is a pity that such misdemeanors as those indicated by the report of the residents of Michigan St. should claim the time of busy police officers, but it will be necessary to catch some of the culprits red-handed and to make examples of them.

What form the punishment should take will be a matter for the discretion of the judge. We suggest, however, that it be so menial a nature that those guilty will not only be impressed by the rewards of their own stupidity, but that they will be exposed to the ridicule of their fellows. And we hope no plea for leniency will be raised by sentimentalists who might consider these acts of vandalism merely as pranks.

MALAYAN REFORMS

CIVIL ADMINISTRATION HAS NOW
replaced British Military Administration in the Malay States under changes embodied in an act passed by the British parliament. In the four federated and five unfederated Malay States, British authority rests upon treaties with the rulers. Each sultan retains sovereignty in his own state, under British advice, except in those matters relating to Mohammedan religion and custom.
Administrative co-operation is obtained through the Governor of the Straits Settlements, Mr. Malcolm MacDonald, recently High Commissioner for Canada who is now High Commissioner for the Malay States.

There is very little cohesion political or economic among the inhabitants of the Peninsula. The Malays themselves form less than half the total population and are outnumbered by the Chinese. East Indians form the third largest community. The Malays do not participate to any extent in the development of the great natural resources of the tin mines and rubber plantations, preferring agriculture and fishing.
They are loyal to their sultans and hold themselves aloof from the other races.
There is not much native friction, though the Malays have feared political subversion by the other races. Reforms have been demanded principally by the Chinese and Indians, and to allay the fears of the Malayans will be one of the chief tasks falling to Mr. MacDonald in seeing that the political reforms now instituted are carried out on democratic principles.

THROUGH DIFFERENT EYES

VARIOUS NEWSMEN DESCRIBING THE scene of the Security Council sessions in New York have referred to the tint of the room in which representatives meet. One speaks of it as "cedar-colored," failing, incidentally to differentiate between red cedar or yellow cedar. Another has called it a rose room; a third a buff room. All are probably correct, according to their own interpretation of those colors.

It does not matter very much what the hue of the walls is, but the divergence is interesting. It furnishes another commentary on differing reactions to a set of given circumstances. And the public will understand that similar differences will exist in the realm of idea analysis as well as on the physical plane.

A Light Still Shining

By L. W. MAKOVSKI

TWELVE MONTHS AGO President Roosevelt died. He had raised the United States to a pinnacle of material power never before achieved by any nation. His death posed to all the world outside the United States the question whether the moral responsibility of material power was fully appreciated within the United States. That material power was being demonstrated everywhere in Europe and Asia to the despair of those who had challenged it.
But to those forces of despairing evil President Roosevelt's death brought the glimmering hope that without his leadership and constant appeal to "live greatly" the United States might hesitate to assume responsibility—might abandon the road to greatness he had surveyed. A return to peace would in any case entail a tremendous strain on the political structure cemented by the unity engendered by single-minded concentration on the objective of victory.

But President Roosevelt had proved himself a consummate leader of the people as well as a political strategist. His election for a fourth term, contrary to every instinct of a people alive to any degree of infallibility as a claim to leadership, had seemed a pledge to posterity. The four years ahead would inevitably determine the world policies of the United States for decades to come.
Because President Roosevelt's mind was tuned to greatness and his vision focussed on responsibility, his re-election created everywhere that faith in principles which is so often shattered by a predilection for expediency.

FIRE DRILL

Your mention of fire drill at Junior High reminds me of an incident that happened about 40 years ago in an English "Infants' school" to which I had been invited to witness a similar exercise, conducted, however, under better conditions than those you describe. The premises were new and modern, and being all on the ground floor were cleared in about 30 seconds. I was duly impressed, and complimented the headmistress on a smart performance adding the question, "How did you manage in the old school?"—an ancient firetrap with narrow, crooked staircases.
The answer was as unexpected as I think the question must have been: "Oh, I never bothered with fire drill there; it was so inconvenient."

MISINTERPRETED

It will be appreciated if you will allow me, through your columns, to correct a wrong impression that Mr. Gordon F. Machan of the B.C. Provincial Government Employees' Association, Colquitz branch, has formed relative to what I am assumed to have said on the floor of the Legislature regarding conditions in Saanich Mental Hospital.

I unreservedly condemned the structural conditions, the limited opportunities for occupation, and the lack of a resident medical psychiatrist, and received some support from the Provincial Secretary who stated that he hoped to do away with the use of the building for its present purpose
as soon as he could get the funds to erect a more suitable one elsewhere. I did not say the place was dirty. Had there been occasion to do so, I would certainly have mentioned it.

Other speakers following me stated that they found the place very clean from which your correspondent apparently erroneously drew the inference that I had stated to the contrary. I withdraw nothing that I did say and regret only that a fuller report was not published in the various newspapers relative to the conditions complained of. May I suggest, with all due courtesy to your correspondent, that in future it might be well if he consulted a public speaker as to what he did say before taking issue with him.

Physiotherapy Act Poor Protection, Winch Contends

The charge that nothing less than outright murder would result if physiotherapists are allowed to continue using medical electrical machinery without a medical doctor's prescription and supervision, was made by Harold Winch, Leader of the Opposition, as the act regulating the practice of physiotherapy and massage went through final passing Thursday before the Legislature prorogued.

Mr. Winch insisted that proper protection is not being given the public in allowing such practitioners, many of whom now in practice are not graduates of any established college or school of physiotherapy, to use low frequency and other electrical machines. He based his statement on knowledge gained when he used to earn his living repairing this type of electrical equipment, he said.

He declared that the wording under some sections of the act virtually gave the physiotherapists the right to diagnose.

Provincial Secretary George Pearson explained that the act had been gone over carefully by members of the medical profession and they favored it as it read at present. He pointed out that until the act was passed there would be no regulation of the physiotherapists of any kind, and even though the present act might not be completely watertight it was a start and could be amended in the light of experience during the coming year.

Education Minister George Weir sang the praises of physiotherapy schools in eastern Canada and of the men who graduate from them; but this did not satisfy Mr. Winch, who again insisted that many practicing in Vancouver were not so qualified. In reply to the statement that the physiotherapists now had the electrical machines, Mr. Winch said, "Take them out of their hands."

The contentious sections passed committee, and as an amendment to the Cemeteries Act came up next, Mr. Winch commented, "Better just make this a clause to the preceding act."

Resolutions Passed
At Final Session
Of I.O.D.E.

A resolution advocating the formation of I.O.D.E. chapters in all other parts of the British Commonwealth of Nations, to strengthen the unity among British peoples, was passed at the final session of Prv / incipal Chapter, I.O.D.E., annual meeting at the Empress Hotel Thursday evening.

Another resolution to be forwarded to National Chapter asked that in view of the desperate need for hospital facilities that service hospitals be kept open for ex-service personnel and civilians where they are needed. The meeting also went on record as endorsing the National Chapter resolution to aid in the conservation of food by destroying unused meat coupons and by using less bread and wheat products.

PROVINCIAL OFFICERS

Mrs. W. N. Martin of Vancouver was unanimously re-elected to serve a third term as president at the morning's session.

Also re-elected for another term were: Mrs. P. E. Corby, Victoria, second vice-president; Mrs. Dennis Godfrey, Vancouver, secretary; Mrs. W. L. Woodford, Vancouver, treasurer; Mrs. R. H. Sinclair, Vancouver, standard-bearer; Mrs. R. J. Sprott, Vancouver, organizing secretary.

Other officers were named as follows: Mrs. H. Coulter, Vancouver, first vice-president; Mrs. C. H. Selby, Vancouver, third vice-president; Mrs. J. L. Gates, Victoria, fourth vice-president; Mrs. H. Barker, Nanaimo, fifth vice-president; Mrs. E. M. Peel, Endersby, sixth vice-president; Mrs. J. W. Dougan, Trail, seventh vice-president; Mrs. J. W. Asher, Vancouver, educational secretary; Mrs. William Ellis, Victoria, Echoes secretary.

Mrs. Martin was elected delegate to National annual meeting;

Mrs. Dennis Godfrey and Mrs. J. L. Gates representatives on credentials and resolutions committee for National annual meeting;

Mrs. R. J. Sprott member of War Memorial committee; Madames A. J. M. McFarlane, C. H. Selby, F. Stead, Vancouver, and Madames P. E. Corby, J. L. Gates, A. H. C. Phiffs, Curtis Sampson, Victoria; Mrs. G. A. Grant, Burnaby, were elected Provincial nominees for 'N' al councillors.

The next annual meeting will be held in Vancouver and the semiannual in Nanaimo.

CONVENTERS ELECTED

Conveners of committees are: Service Libraries, Mrs. G. A. Grant, Burnaby; postage service, Mrs. C. H. Selby, Vancouver; Empire study, Mrs. E. R. Eat Less and Share Urged By Y.W.C.A.

An appeal to all Y.W.C.A. members across Canada to share their wheat and meat with hungry people in Europe has been issued by the public affairs committee of the National Council of the Y.W.C.A.

"Eat less bread. Waste none. Store your bread in the refrigerator, etc. Instead of buying pies and cakes," the appeal states. "Don't bake or buy as many pies and cakes for your family. Cake flour requires almost as much wheat as ordinary flour."

"Use less beef and pork. Every coupon not used means so much more meat available to send overseas."

Mrs. W. C. Rean, president of the National Council, has written to the Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, stating that "the desire of the women of Canada to respond to the urgent need of the starving people of Europe and Asia is so great that in many instances they are embarking upon projects of food collection which are well-intended but are, we feel, an uneconomical and inefficient way of tackling the problem."

"May we urge the government to take immediate steps using any means of publicity to tell the Canadian people what they should do, in very practical concrete ways, to help in the present situation to the best advantage."

Miss Sara Spencer In Charge Of Remake and Repair Depot

In anticipation of the National Clothing Drive in June, Miss Sara Spencer has consented to take charge of a remake and repair depot and is now appealing to citizens to turn in their worn clothing.

The object of the depot, situated upstairs at 1230 Government Street, is to repair and remake clothing before the drive starts.

Much valuable work can be done in the next three months collecting and repairing clothing, so that when the drive actually takes place, a large number of garments will be packed and ready for shipment. Many worn garments, which would not otherwise be serviceable, can be remade now into children's clothing, for which there is a great demand.

A number of organizations and individual workers, who formerly prepared clothing for "Bundles for Britain" have indicated their desire to work. Plans are also being made for work to be done outside the depot.

While garments of all kinds will be accepted, it is hoped that, whenever possible, donors will send in clothing which has been washed or cleaned.

Miss Spencer, telephones G 5950 and E 6402, will welcome registrations of organizations and individual workers willing to help. She points out that the most urgent need at the moment is for bundles of clothing, which may be left at the depot from 9 to 5. Everything from overcoats and blankets to wearable socks will be acceptable.

How desperate is the need for clothing overseas is indicated by the fact that babies born on the continent of Europe are frequently wrapped only in newspaper. Recently welfare workers in Yugoslavia found older children clad in the ragged remnants of as many as 14 garments.

Legion Branch Asks 150 More Houses

Contending family accommodation for returned veterans shows no sign of improvement and rising building costs are placing home ownership out of reach for the majority of veterans, a regular meeting of the Pro Patria Branch, Canadian Legion, has passed a resolution requesting the City of Victoria to build an additional 150 low-rental houses.

The resolution also asks other municipalities in Greater Victoria to open the subject and carry out "warlike promises to the servicemen" by building homes affording reasonable comfort to the veterans.

E. C. McIntyre, branch president; G. Wilson and H. P. Hopper were elected to represent the branch at the legion's Dominion convention, to be held in Quebec,

Cecil Solly Says:

'You May Intensify Hydrangea Colors'

THE COLORS of the hydrangea may be changed or intensified as desired, by feeding with additional plant food material, during the growing season in the spring.

Pink flowers may be colored, intensified or brightened by the use of about one heaped tablespoon of sulphate of potash to each small shrub. A larger quantity will be needed yearly as the plant grows in size.

In some clay soils it may only be necessary to use wood ashes which will provide some potash itself and release more from the soil. Provided a note is made of what quantity is used and the results attained, it is quite easy to judge what quantity is needed for the future seasons.

Blue flowers may be had only by treatment for the natural color of the hydrangea is pink. Blue flowers are produced in an acid soil in which there is no trace of lime.

Materials to use are alum, which should be mixed with rain water if possible, using one heaped teaspoon to each gallon of water. This "blueing" water should be used freely at intervals which can only be accurately judged by noting the effect on the plant.

Other materials are sulphate of aluminum, at the rate of two ounces to one gallon of water; iron filings scattered copiously around each plant and worked into the soil.

To keep the blue varieties blue or to heighten the color, it is generally only necessary to use plenty of acid-forming material such as leaf mold or peat moss with iron filings mixed thoroughly.

PRUNING THE 'PEE GEE'

This nickname has been popularly accepted for the hydrangea paniculata grandiflora. It is an imported variety whose home is in China and Japan.

It is seen to best effect when planted close in front of rather heavy evergreens, although it is most often used for open lawn specimens or hedges. If pruned carefully over a period of a few years it may be trained like a small standard tree with fine effect. Its huge pointed flower is cream and white in August, changing to pink and later to a "pinked brown" in fall.

Generally the huge heads are so heavy that they cause the branches to droop and lose their attractiveness. This may be partially prevented by a generous feeding all season and an ample supply of moisture, especially during the early part of the summer.

Pruning of this variety is quite simple. It flowers on the new wood and should be severely cut back in February to provide new strong growth. Should the flower heads look unsightly in fall they may be removed but the branches should be allowed to remain until early spring.

WHITE SNOWBALL FLOWERS

This variety, which is listed in catalogues as hydrangea arborescens grandiflora, is a true American sort, being a native of the eastern half of the United States. It is naturally extremely hardy and grows generally, about five feet high. The shrub is a striking one with its showy large heads of pure white flowers like great snowballs, entirely covering the plant in midsummer.

The flowers are all sterile. During the late summer, generally in September, the flowers lose their dazzling whiteness, turning greenish.

The pruning treatment for this variety is to cut back the branch quite severely in early spring before growth commences. Since the shrub flowers on its new wood, this drastic treatment is desirable because the strong new shoots form huge shoots arise young ones. In this case you shorten back to immediately above the point at which the young sucker comes. Thus you may have suckers and young stem growths, the two together forming a plant of great future promise.

In instances where only a proportion of this year's shoots flowered, the flowered shoots only are treated as described above, cutting them back to the new young shoots.

The question then arises, what to do with the old unflowered shoots? On no account shorten them or next spring they will develop numerous side shoots and, instead of having one unflowered growth, you will have many. Cutting back on these ill-advised lines has converted many an otherwise promising hydrangea into a flowerless bush of weak shoots.

If they get a good ripening period the shoots on the following year will bear your finest blossoms. It often happens that the young growths, having been more or less overshadowed by the old ones, cluster together at the centre. As this is against thorough ripening, you should, where necessary, tie a few of the shorter ones to an outside stake to give the sun a chance to mature them all.

Prize List Ready As Eagles Open Office For May 24 Parade

Fraternal Order of Eagles, which is handling the street day parade and torchlight procession for the three-day May 24 celebrations in Victoria, has now opened its 735 View Street offices to receive inquiries or give information with regard to floats and other parade plans.

At present, the May 24 parade committee is looking for the oldest car in the city as a part of the plan to have cars "down through the ages" represented in the parade. Anyone having a car which might qualify is asked to contact William Brigewood at E 0551 or the organization's offices.

Judges of parade entries are: E. Whyte, Dr. Hugh Clarke, Mrs. Nancy Hodges, Duncan McTavish and Dr. J. M. Thomas. A. H. Bishop is marshal of parade.

J. R. Waters is chairman of the parade committee. Sub-committee chairmen are: M. P. Paine, municipal and schools; J. Wright, commercial; G. Goodenough, naval and military; J. Rose, industrial; J. Wilmhurst, youth; C. Holt, fraternal societies; W. Cox, horses and horse-drawn vehicles; W. Brigewood, automobile; B. Duncan, visitors and visiting entries; J. Paine, bands, ahd E. EATING TOO MUCH?

Most People Do and Pay the Penalty!

Many who eat "under the weather" are often guilty of overeating, especially rich, fatty foods. This often leads to a system overloaded with toxic waste, a dull, tired feeling and eventual "middle-of-the-night" attacks. The Medicine Men of Nature: "More people eat too heavily, exercise too little, so get BILE BEANS from your druggist and resolve to keep fit and trim despite rich, heavy food to take Bile Beans nightly. These small all-vegetable pills are so gentle they are called "The Medicine Men of Nature." More people eat too heavily, exercise too little, so get BILE BEANS from your druggist and resolve to keep fit and trim despite rich, heavy food to take Bile Beans nightly."

MOTHS PLAY PART IN INSECT TRIBE FIGHTS

In the insect world there are many "dramas of life and death." Moths, for example, attack other insects, and in their turn are attacked.

Study of a moth under a microscope, and you will find that its mouth is not fit for fighting. Like a butterfly, it may sip nectar, but it is without the power to chew up an enemy. Other insects, such as warrior ants, do plenty of damage with their mouths, but it is another story for moths.

Neither can moths sting. They lack the power which honeybees have.

Then, we may ask, how can moths do any damage?

The answer is that moths cause damage through their young. All of them start out as caterpillars, and the caterpillars have mouths with chewing parts.

Some moths are pests from the viewpoint of people. The caterpillars which hatch from their eggs destroy growing crops, also grain-in the bins. Certain kinds of moths produce the "worms" which do much damage to clothing.

Other pests are the "bee moths," which are of special danger to honeybees. They fly into the hives to lay their eggs under cover of darkness. Quick they must be, or they will be found out by the wakeful bees and stung to death.

Vernon Kellogg, a widely known scientist, placed several bee moths in hives, both by day and by night. In each case, the bees rushed at the moth, stung it to death and tore it to pieces.

When a bee moth is able to steal in and lay eggs without being seen, the eggs are placed on wax. When they hatch, the grubs eat through the wax and cause the bees a great deal of trouble. Bees have been known to desert hives in which moths of this kind have gained a foothold.

Caterpillars have special enemies, and these include "tracker flies," also known as "ichneumon flies." The females among these flies seek-out caterpillars. A hole is drilled in the caterpillar's body, and eggs are laid in it. When the eggs hatch, the young or larvae slowly eat up the caterpillar.

Cuthbert J. Brown Dies in Foxboro, Mass.

Cuthbert J. Brown, husband of the former Miss Florence V. Coles of Victoria, died Sunday at his home in Foxboro, Mass., according to word received here today. He had returned home only a few weeks ago from a 2½-month visit to Victoria, where he was well known.

Students Portray High School Life For Rotary Club

Three Victoria High School students, Shirley Fennell, Dorothy Wills and David Stock, spoke before the Rotary Club Thursday on the life and interests of high school students.

The trio were introduced by Robert Heywood, head of the commercial and guidance departments, Victoria High School, who said, "More than ever before we have a large body of people of high school age who have an eye to the future and still keep their feet in the present."

The first speaker, Miss Fennell, outlined high school curricular activities. She maintained there was one defect in the educational plan.

A student who started out taking a course other than the university course, she said, if he changed his mind and wished to enter university, had to turn around and make up the difference in credits for university entrance. Miss Fennell also said that although it was seldom students admitted they enjoyed going to school, most did like it.

Miss Wills defined high school needs as intellectual, physical, moral and social. She spoke of extra-curricular activities of students as developing the character and social and emotional needs of students.

in them gave students the opportunity to accept responsibility. High school life, she added, was still a challenge in attainment to the student.

She classed high school life as a way of life students would never again experience, in which they learned toleration of other races and creeds. In high school, Miss Wills said, students grew from adolescence to young men and women.

Students learned to gain confidence in themselves, and learned to be good citizens, she concluded.

Mr. Stock, president of the students' association at Victoria High School, the last to speak, outlined the duties and responsibilities of the student council. Students' problems and plans were considered and discussed. Representatives informed their classmates, he said, as to what was going on and because of this the students' co-operation could be expected.

Students were split in their ideas regarding the social program, he believed. There were those who believed school should be the centre of the students' activities, and others who believed the school should only be the centre for academic studies, he said. However, he added, the latter were in the minority.

The duties of the council, he concluded, were to promote activities not primarily entertaining, but those which gave students the opportunity to work, play and live with each other.

The provincial government, it is reported, will convert into a park the area containing the aboriginal petroglyphs near Nalimo.

Is Old Fire Engine Junk Or Souvenir?

Existence of an old horse-drawn fire engine, which was seen at many a fire in Victoria about the turn of the century, posed a bit of a problem for the fire wardens' committee, according to Ald. H. M. Diggion, chairman.

"The question is whether we should sell it just for junk or polish it up and put it on display," he said. "I would be in favor of displaying it somewhere for few children have seen such an engine. It is in the Garibaldi Road yard."

"The matter will be discussed at a future meeting.

Visual Education On Church Program

An interesting presentation of some of the outstanding Biblical stories through the medium of Cathedral films has replaced the regular mid-week Lenten services at St. John's Church for the past five weeks.

Produced under technical direction of religious authorities, Cathedral films portray, with simple reverence, some of the magnificent events in the life of Jesus Christ.

The final film of the series "Journey into Faith," the story of the Crucifixion, will be shown next Wednesday evening at 8 p.m. with a special showing for children at 5 p.m. in St. John's Parish Hall.

The series has been arranged as a demonstration of visual education in religious training by the National Film Board and the Victoria Public Library.

A MESSAGE TO THE PEOPLE OF VANCOUVER, NEW WESTMINSTER & VICTORIA, SERVED BY THE BRITISH COLUMBIA ELECTRIC RAILWAY

WE regret the delay in the delivery of the buses ordered by the British Columbia Electric Railway. It is not their fault—nor is it ours. The reason is work stoppages caused by labour disputes in the plants of companies supplying component parts.

Production is actually well under way and it will not take long to complete these buses. Present indications are that it will just be a matter of a few weeks before deliveries will commence. Please be patient until then.

THESE NEW BUSES ARE WORTH WAITING FOR...

Although waiting is hard on everybody, these new buses are really worth waiting for. They are the last word in city bus equipment and are the same as the buses which will serve the people of most of the other large cities in Canada, including Montreal, Toronto, Ottawa, London, Calgary and Edmonton. Note the pictures at right—note the wide doors, the low step, the roomy, comfortable seats, plus good standing comfort, with plenty of head room. These are the buses which will soon be on your streets. You'll find them worth waiting for.

Sunday Gridiron Matches

Two Semifinals Billed

Sunday's sports spotlight will be focused on Macdonald Park when four units of the Victoria Canadian Football League clash in a pair of semifinal battles to decide finalists of the condensed spring season.

It was reported today by President Frank Brown that it has been decided to skip Easter weekend for the final to decide the champions. The final will probably be held Sunday, April 28, at the same ground, thus giving the teams a couple of weeks of rest.

Sunday's program on James Bay turf will open at 1 in the afternoon with Johnny's Coffee Shop taking on the J.B.A.A. squad. The afternoon's second attraction, starting at 2:30, brings together St. Louis College, undefeated schedule winners, and Canadian Legion.

Bill Bishop, who has been handling most of the league's correspondence with officials south of the border, reports that Victoria is back on the "good

Calgary Meets Smoke Eaters Tonight in Scrap for Title

CALGARY (CP)—Trail Smoke Eaters and Calgary Stampeders meet here tonight in the fifth game of their best-of-seven battle for the western Canada senior hockey title with a majority of fans convinced it will end the series.

Trail has yet to its first victory although the Smokes held the speedy Calgary outfit to 1 to 1 and 4 to 4 ties in the opening games. But the Stamps, pointing for the Allan Cup finals, took the third 7 to 3 and the fourth 5 to 4.

Both teams will be short a defenceman. Pete Slobodian of Calgary is still nursing a cut ankle and playing coach, Jimmy Morris of the British Columbia champions, has been cut of action with a leg injury since he absorbed a terrific check from Art Michaluk of Calgary in the second game.

The Smokies won't be without vocal support. A party of 150 Trail fans is motoring across the Rockies for the game.

JUNIOR SERIES OPENS TOMORROW

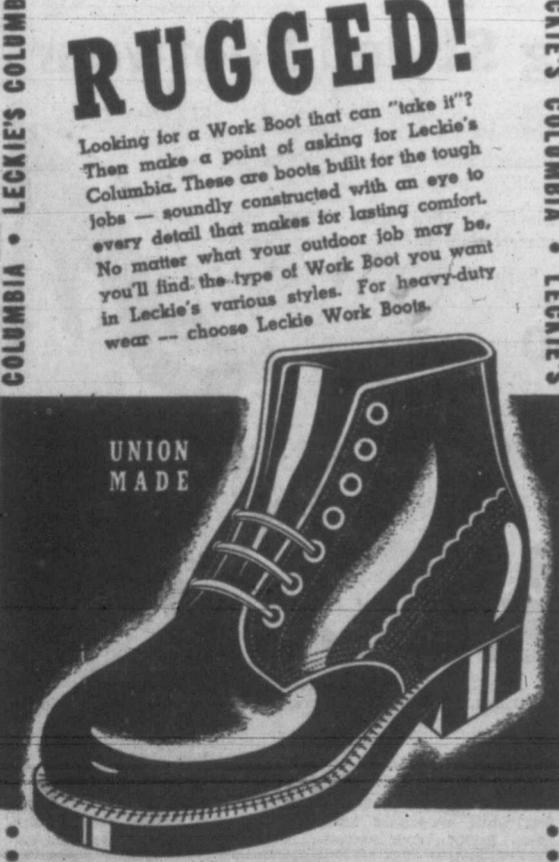

TORONTO (CP) — Winnipeg Monarchs and Toronto St. Michaels were both calmly confident today on the eve of their Memorial Cup battles for the Canadian Junior Hockey Championship.

The two great junior teams, champions of the west and of eastern Canada respectively, had practice sessions this afternoon on the big ice surface at Maple Leaf Gardens where a sell-out crowd of 16,000 is assured for Saturday night's opening game of the best-of-seven cup final.

Stanley Cup Champions in Joyous Mood

Montreal Canadiens are pictured here after they reached the trail's end of hockey glory Tuesday night by winning the Stanley Cup. Tommy Gorman, general manager of the team, stands at the extreme right. The Montrealers won the title by chalking up four wins in five starts.

Seals Beaten But Retain Coast Ball League Leadership

A southpaw's success over three right-handers spelled the end of a six-game winning streak for the San Francisco Seals Thursday night, but left them still a game and a half ahead of the nearest challengers in the Pacific Coast Baseball League.

Portland's Roy Heisler proved to be the Seals' stumbling block in his 6-5 victory as the second-place Oakland Acorns kept their grip on the top of the Pacific Coast.

TORONTO 2-1 FAVORITE

Winnipeg fans who accompanied the Monarchs on the trip east were certain their team could triumph over the Toronto college team, despite the great record of St. Mikes in winning the O.H.A. junior title and eliminating Montreal Canadiens in the eastern final. One fan asserted he had $4,000 to back up his confidence and was quite pleased when he found the odds were as high as 2 to 1 against Winnipeg on the first game.

Coach Joe Primeau of St. Mikes, a former N.H.L. star with Toronto Maple Leafs, had no predictions to make as to the outcome. He was content to rest on the fine showing St. Mikes have made all season. Manager Pat Lyon of Winnipeg said he felt "very good" about the Monarchs' chances. All 17 of the playing members of the Monarchs were in top shape today after the long train journey.

Want Saanich Boundaries Defined for Amalgamation

Saanich was asked today by the intermunicipal committee, headed by Ald. J. B. Gadsden, to draw a boundary through the municipality separating the urban areas, which it is presumed will be included in any future plan for amalgamation of Greater Victoria, from the rural areas which will make the new municipality of Saanich.

The entire Saanich council, headed by Reeve A. G. Lambbrick, attended the intermunicipal meeting and placed its problem before the gathering. Reeve Lambbrick stated that approximately $1,500,000 in sewer, water and street lighting improvements are needed immediately for the inner wards, but the council does not feel it can put a by-law to the people until the situation regarding how soon amalgamation may come about is clarified.

He asked that the necessary investigations into the details of amalgamation be gone into immediately without waiting for results of the Goldenberg commission.

Ald. H. M. Diggon and City Solicitor A. J. Patton both agreed that further investigations could not go on until the area to be affected was determined, which necessitated Saanich dividing itself because the rural areas cannot be included in any amalgamation scheme.

The question of financing under amalgamation and of debts now incurred by any of the municipalities would have to be settled by the commission appointed to investigate details, Mr. Patton told the meeting. Councillor P. Moir of Oak Bay

May Call Transport Bids in Two Months, Says Ald. Diggon

Belief that tenders would be called for a unified transportation system inside two months was expressed by Ald. H. M. Diggon following a meeting of the Greater Victoria transportation committee Thursday, at which members decided that tenders would be called as soon as specifications were prepared.

E. S. Farr, transportation consultant, gave a provisional report on work accomplished or nearing completion, and with the intermunicipal officers' committee was instructed to draw up the specifications without delay.

"We now have considerable analysis of routes, main stops, amount of people carried and some knowledge of the general flow of traffic, which will be invaluable in weighing tenders of the transportation companies," Ald. Diggon said.

"Work accomplished to date is sufficient to indicate defects in routes laid down last year by committees," he said, adding that the transportation question was a flexible one with traffic changes and the opening up of new districts by home building.

The plan of routes approved by various municipalities last year will be revised by use of results of the survey of population density accumulated during the past six weeks.

Transportation companies will be asked to bid on this plan, but will have the alternative of submitting a plan of their own, and they will be asked what proportion of gross revenue they are willing to turn over to the municipalities.

Vaccinations will be given at the Victoria Health Centre from 7 to 9 tonight.

Continuing the week of School Drama Festival, Thursday evening saw three plays produced at Mount View High School. All three were comedies of the farce or burlesque nature and Mrs. Phoebe Smith, Vancouver adjudicator, felt that the groups did not realize the difficulties involved in successfully presenting this type of play, tempo, teamwork and accentuation being most important.

"A Family Resemblance," entered by Mount View High School came a burlesque, "Curse You, Jack Dalton." Mrs. Smith felt that the students must have enjoyed this; everyone had plenty to do, but the play was not a good one, and too difficult for beginners. Once again, the tempo needed to be fast.

From Mount Newton High School came a burlesque, "Curse You, Jack Dalton." Mrs. Smith felt that the students must have enjoyed this; everyone had plenty to do, but the play was not a good one, and too difficult for beginners. Once again, the tempo needed to be fast.

A second entry by Mount View High, "The Pampered Darling." Mrs. Smith considered a brilliant little play. The cast was good. There was fun for everybody, with good tempo and teamwork; a completely successful performance. The set and costumes were good.

The casts were:

"A Family Resemblance," directed by Miss E. Norie; Pat Thomas, Doreen Milien, Alan Beach and Helen Farquhar.

"Curse You, Jack Dalton," directed by Miss M. Hardwick; Margaret Epton, Beverly Hall, Donald Royston, Flora Seeley, Ron, di Temple, Barbara Brooks and Hilding Rodstrom.

"The Pampered Darling," directed by Miss P. H. Trafford; Maxine Mussick, C. Horsland, M. Robinson, J. Purdie, H. Gold, B. Bradley, Cecilia Daniel, Ada Norman, T. Ballard, J. Crossley and K. Kroeger.

Heading For New York By Canoe

Peter Burtt, 26-year-old Canadian Scottish veteran, packing his canoe down to Victoria's waterfront in preparation for an overland journey which will take him from here to New York. Insert, Peter Burtt. The Victoria veteran plans to start out from the Gorge early Saturday morning, stopping on his way around and up the east coast of the island to visit his mother. When he reaches Port Hardy, he will cross over to the mainland in his 16-foot aluminum canoe and then start his overland journey through Canadian waterways. He is taking with him 150 pounds of food, $100 in cash, a bow and arrows for hunting, and on the early stage of his trip will take a .44-40 Winchester for protection.

Adjudicator Says Best School Drama In Victoria

Throughout the setting was simple but effective.

"Fireman, Save My Child," directed by Miss K. Baker; Irene Olsen, Gordon Payne, Clifton Colpitts, Iva Edgerton, Alan Sheila Dignan, Helen Horth, Barbara Patterson and Shirley Readings. "Moon Miracle," directed by Miss D. Ayliffe and J. W. Jackson; Travers Custance, June Drage, Joyce Johnson, Alan Bell, Geoffrey Soong, David Ridout, Bernard Johnson, May Lough, Peter Jeffrey and Nancy Clements.

Tonight's session will take place at Oak Bay High School at 8. On Saturday evening, at Victoria High School, three contrasting and representative plays selected from the week's presentations, will be presented.

"A Family Resemblance," entered by Mount Newton High School came a burlesque, "Curse You, Jack Dalton." Mrs. Smith felt that the students must have enjoyed this; everyone had plenty to do, but the play was not a good one, and too difficult for beginners. Once again, the tempo needed to be fast.

Characterization Marks Performances Of Coast Ballet

San Francisco Ballet won the applause of a packed house in the York Theatre Thursday evening, as they overcame the inadequacies of a small stage to gain the approval of an audience used to the dancing greats of the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo.

Equaling their youth and verve was the quality of their dancing and their clever characterizations. Spontaneously of their premier dancers, many no more than 21 years old, was echoed in the work of the corps de ballet.

Opening the program was one of the best-known and liked ballets, "Swan Lake." Although shortened with nearly all of the first act eliminated the presentation lost none of its traditional beauty.

Presented for the first time in Victoria, "Now the Brides," was the San Francisco's Ballet's interpretation of a wedding-in-burlesque. There was high comedy in the episode where the dancers lampooned traditional behaviour and dress at weddings, especially that of the bridesmaids. Ona White, who began her dancing career in Powell River, was outstanding in both acting and dancing.

Characterization on which the company has concentrated was remarkable throughout this number. A special musical score by Fritz Berens fitted perfectly its swiftly-moving satire. Among the best performances were those of Joseph Manners as the clergyman, Ruby Asquith as the nursemaid, and Robert Thorsen as the policeman.

Catching the spirit of Tchaikovsky's music was the pas de deux from "Sleeping Beauty," entitled "Blue Bird." Here Peter Nelson was especially applauded for his agility and skill in a series of difficult figures where at times he seemed to remain suspended in mid-air.

Georges Enesco's stirring music provided the inspiration for "Romanian Rhapsody," the colorful ballet which closed the program. Diversified dance patterns were matched by the imaginative costumes.

Originally was stressed in the choreography of William Christensen, who draws most of the dancers in the company from the Pacific coast.

With a sidewalk cafe as background "In Old Vienna" given at the afternoon performance, was reminiscent of the famed "Gaite Parisienne."

Also appearing at the matinee were Jose Manero and his Altenitas in a group of Mexican and Spanish dances.

Yolanda And Thief At Dominion Now

All the facets of entertainment are brilliantly blended in the new M-G-M Technicolor musical, "Yolanda and the Thief," which opens at the Dominion Theatre today. It is an ideal vehicle for the talents of Fred Astaire and Lucille Bremer, who recently scored together in "Ziegfeld Follies," and who again prove themselves an acting, dancing and singing team of top calibre.

Astaire, master of the jaunty role, is at his best as the light-hearted crook who finds himself "guardian angel" of a beautiful young heiress. Charming his way into her heart, as well as into her safe, he is well on his way to confiscating her fortune when the girl's real guardian steps in with unexpected results.

ATLAS THEATRE

Movie-goers were electrified by the startling impact of the gripping and timely drama, "The House on 92nd Street," which is currently at the Atlas Theatre. The story the headlines didn't reveal about the protection of the atomic bomb secret was brought to grim reality on the screen.

Produced by 20th Century Fox and starring William Etheye, Lloyd Nolan and Signe Hasso, "The House on 92nd Street" reveals one of the most desperate struggles the F.B.I. ever encountered to crush and destroy a highly-skilled, cruelly calculating Nazi spy ring bent on gaining possession of one of the nation's most closely guarded secrets.

M.L.A.'s Relax After Passing 82 Bills At 44 Sittings

With an obvious sigh of relief the 46 members of the provincial Legislature packed up their books and papers, scrapped notes of their speeches and started for home Thursday afternoon after holding 44 sittings at the present session since Feb. 21, and passing 82 bills.

The customary pomp and ceremony were observed during the last 25 minutes of the session, with Lieutenant-Governor W. C. Woodward coming into the chamber at 4:07 following with his aides, Lt.-Cmdr. H. Patterson, Lt.-Col. Brooke Stephenson, Wing Cmdr. Don Campbell, all in uniform, and J. G. Cromack, his private secretary. Premier John Hart followed the Lieutenant-Governor who was in civilian clothes.

Business of the Legislature had been concluded at 3:28 when Premier Hart announced the order paper had been cleared. During the last 30 minutes seven bills had received third reading, three of them going through the committee stage with virtually no discussion.

However, Opposition Leader Harold Winch, insisted on having two questions answered before recess to wait for the coming of the Lieutenant-Governor.

Labor legislation and the implementation of the Cameron Report were among the most important pieces of legislation receiving assent of the Lieutenant-Governor, after R. S. Yates, clerk of the House, had read through the titles of all 82 of the bills to be approved.

The galleries were approximately half-filled with visitors who came to see the House prorogue. On the right of the Speaker's throne were Mrs. Woodward and Mrs. Gordon Wismer, wife of the Attorney-General.

Provincial Secretary George Pearson read the motion officially proroguing the Legislature, which is to meet again at the call of the Lieutenant-Governor. The parade solemnly filed out to the chamber with Mr. Speaker Norman Whittaker and Premier Hart falling in behind.

YORK THEATRE

The Clown Princes of Comedy are back! Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy are teamed again in a new M-G-M mirthquake, "Nothing But Trouble," now at the York Theatre. Stan and Ollie get mixed up in a plot to do away with a young king-in-exile . . . and that means laughs and more laughs for every movie-goer. A grand supporting cast includes Mary Boland, Philip Merivale, Henry O'Neill, David Leland and John Warburton. See "Nothing But Trouble" and forget all your own troubles.

New YorkPrice Changes Mixed in One Of Quietest Markets of Week

NEW YORK (AP) — Stocks travelled a narrow path today in one of the quietest markets of the week.

Selected low-priced industrials achieved some improvement in moderately active early dealings, but the pace slowed almost to a standstill at times and near the close the list was well mixed between advances and declines. There was some recovery from the day's low.

Sales totalled near 1,200,000 shares and compared with 1,220,000 Thursday.

Changes in Canadians were mixed at noon. Canadian Pacific was unchanged at 203. Distillers Seagram down ½ at 94, Dome Mines up ¼ at 24½, International Nickel down ¼ at 39½.

Dow Jones averages closed today as follows:

30 industrials, 206.94, up .03
20 rails 63.65, off .43
15 utilities 42.70, off .03
65 stocks 76.62, off .13
Total sales, 1,230,000.
